B. C. Dominoes Take Two Straight Games

Town Council Holds Regular Session

The Town Council met in a busy session Thursday night and spent until midnight hearing delegations and discussing town business, etc. The minutes and the cash report were accepted after presentation.

L. L. Pack and A. H. Zabriskie were present and spoke in support of the Swimming Pool and tabled some additional information regarding the project. Because of the volume of business to attend to, the Council called an special meeting for Monday evening next to consider this matter and invited the representation to be present.

O. R. Knight and L. D. King were present to ask the Council what they thought about a Stampede for this year, and whether they would assist in rebuilding the corrals at the Grounds. The members of the Council were in favor of the Stampede, and Geo. E. Court and Mayor Meeks were appointed from the Council to go over the Grounds with Mr. Knight to see what rebuilding would be necessary and to report back to the Council Monday night.

Several were present asking for reductions in assessment, moving of a water ditch and rent from some of the Town unemployed. The Council listened to the applications and promised consideration by the proper committees.

Councillor Jensen reported on the work at the dam and the road in the Allred coulee which had been covered by the back water, and the work being done under his Committee, the report under his Committee, the Council accepted his report.

Some time was spent in discussing water account collections and the responsibility of accumulated arrears between tenants and property owners. By reading the by-law all questions were cleared up.

The pay roll was accepted and ordered paid, and the meeting adjourned at 12.

Our next holiday will be Victoria Day, May 24th.

Winston Shaw, who has been very ill with pneumonia is on the improve again now. A special nurse was attending him the latter part of last week.

The Victoria Dominoes were guests of the Town officials and Board of Trade at a complimentary luncheon Wednesday. Dr. Leech was Master of Ceremonies, and a pleasant two hours were spent by the Dominoes, Jacks and local guests.

Mrs. Dennden was rushed to the Lethbridge Hospital early Thursday morning suffering from a hemorrhage of the nose which the Doctor thought was caused by coughing. Thursday night she was considered out of danger and the flow of blood had been stopped.

Provo—Mary Knight, Raymond, Alberta, was pledged a member of the C. C. T. C. unit in ceremonies held recently at Brigham Young University. Miss Knight is a freshman at the University. Three members were pledged under the direction of Feth Richards, president. A program and refreshments were enjoyed by the twenty-two members present. Helen Holbrook, Provo, was hostess.

Women's Institute Meeting

The W. I. met at the home of Mrs. W. Zobel April 9th at 2:30 p.m. with 15 ladies present. Meeting opened by singing "O-Canada". Minutes of March meeting were read and adopted. It was decided that we have a door prize at the following meetings for the rest of the year. The Theme song was led by Mrs. R. Tollestrup.

A paper on Canadian Industries was read by Mrs. Paris. Solos "Red Sails in the Sunset" and "I'll Take You Home Kathleen" were sung by Mrs. Myron Holmes. Mrs. Joe Nilsson gave some Forecasts for the coming year. Mrs. Hal gave current events. Community singing was then enjoyed, and the meeting closed by singing the National Anthem, after which a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Fisher, May 15th.

A bee's sting is 1-32 of an inch in length. The other three feet is imagination.

The green grass showing so nicely on the sheltered sides of the ditch banks and so on is a welcome sight after so much snow and cold weather.

As a result of the Beet meeting Saturday, new contracts for the Crop Share Contract in this district were drawn up and are being signed now.

Quintuplets were born to a Rumanian peasant woman Wednesday, but died Thursday. Four of them were born in Siamese twin fashion. No doctor was present.

Editing a paper without ruffling anybody's feelings, observes the editor of the Fernie Free Press, is like fishing without a hook on your line: you get lots of recreation, but no results.

A man wandered into a tennis tournament the other day at Miami, and sat down on the bench. "Whose game?" he asked. A shy pretty little thing sitting next to him looked up hopefully and replied "I'm."

HOME

(By Hugh C. Newton)

If me is not made with hands, Home is either here or there, Home is where true love expands. And that may be most anywhere.

It may be in the far off east.

It may be in the golden west, But where it is there's bound to be a peace.

And that one place is just the best, So whether it be grand or not, Or whether in a humble cot.

Where dwells the soul in perfect bliss, That's home with highest lapiness.

Hard Fought Series Give 12 Point Margin to Visitors

Raymond's basketball flag is making theirs count and adding at half mast today, following to the score, most of the Jacks her defeat in two straight rolled out of the hoop. Dominion games at the hands of the Victorians scored 10 out of 20, Jacks 4 out of 16. Just enough difference to have won the game. Just after the second half started Turner was sent to the show-champions for the Dominion crown. It was a great series, almost immediately D. Peden of Dominoes followed him for the same offence.

The play was still lightning fast, and as Raymond commenced to close the gap between a 21-23 score the crowd started to yell and when Ken Hague snapped a counter through to even the count at 28 all pandemonium broke loose and it sounded like the house was coming down. The Chapman brothers of Victoria then combined to notch two counters when Art pushed in a rebound and Chuck scored from away out and the bell ended a hard fought and fast game.

The players and score: DOMINOES: A. Chapman 8; Goldsmith 3; Andrews 9; Peden 7; C. Chapman 4; Martin 1; McKeachie; Mattishaw; Keane. TOTAL 32.

UNION JACKS: Turner 5; VanOrman 8; Nilsson 12; K. Hague 6; Rolfsen 4; Nalder 2; A. Hague; Fairbanks. Total 28.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT The game started with a crowded house. There were not more than 20 or 25 seats left although quite a number could have found standing room had there been the demand. Martin sank a foul for Victoria, but Rolfsen and Turner both scored from the floor to make the count 4-1 and the battle was on. Raymond went like wildfire playing the visitors right off their feet for the first ten minutes of the game with the score reading 14-5 and 18-9 where it stood after 8½ minutes of play. Besides guarding and checking closely the locals were shooting good, and at no time was there much difference in the total.

Andrews, A. Chapman, D. Peden were ruled off on fouls during the game, the Jacks players remaining intact on this count for the entire course of the game. The first stanza ended with a count of 27-26 for Victoria. The first time during the night that the visitors had been in the lead. But 15 seconds after the start of the second period Nilsson made a foul shot good and tied the score. Despite a change in the tally, the Jacks kept right on fighting, and Ab. Hague subbed and evened the count at 43 all with one of his flashy long shots, which brought the visitors up with a start to see such a grandstand play. Ab. didn't have many chances to pull this long shot, as after about two offences his opponent stayed with him and kept him closely covered. In the dying minutes of the game the Jacks commenced to weary, and it was then the visitors put all they had into the game to end the tussle with an eight point margin, and win the right to continue on east to represent the west in the Dominion finals, and we will say they are worthy representatives.

MONDAY NIGHT Victoria took the tip off most of the time, and had the local at the disadvantage of having to take the ball away from them before they could have a chance to shoot. The Dominoes drew first blood on a foul shot, and followed soon after with a field goal. Nilsson scored on a nice one from close in for the Jacks, and the battle was on. Dominoes led most of the way, but not over five points difference between the two, and as the gap closed rapidly, the enthusiasm of the crowd knew no bounds. About five or six minutes after play the game was held up for a few seconds when the crowd disagreed with some of the decisions of Perrin so forcibly that he and Viney had to have a conference and talk things over a little. After this play went on uninterrupted. Fouls on both sides were frequent, and while the visitors were

R.A.A.A. OFFICIALS DEFENDING OF PRAISE

The basketball season is over, but the untiring efforts of the R.A.A.A. officials will never be forgotten. Mac and Ern have spent days hours and weeks looking to the many details of the Athletic Association this year, and have been assisted by a great many of the men and boys about town. Coach Burle Robinson has left his mark on the sports activities of the town, and his valuable work in moulding the Jacks into such splendid form as they showed in the play off series means a great deal to the town. We say a thousand thanks to these and others in the field of sports.

We hope the Jacks will not feel discouraged. To be beaten by a team like the Dominoes is no disgrace. In fact we think to give such a much touted team such a run for their money is an accomplishment that any town the size of Raymond should be proud of, and if any to Banff before July 1st this roster of players can be kept together again for next year the Union Jacks will be Canada's 1937 champions. If they can show improvement next year in proportion to the progress they have made this year. If they can work into a little better physical condition and keep up the fighting spirit that characterizes their work this season they can take any amateur team on the road. They need just a little more wind and a better sight on free shooting.

Heads up boys, We're going out for glory and next year we'll get it. To be the Provincial champions for 12 out of 15 years is hardly enough for Raymond. Let's go out and get the Dominion crown in 1937.

Home for the Easter recess of Parliament, John H. Blackmore, M.P., addressed about 150 interested listeners in the Second Ward Hall Tuesday night, giving an account of his stewardship so far. D. G. Selman was Chairman of the meeting and introduced the speaker of the evening.

The speaker stated that the Social Credit movement and their efforts at Ottawa had met with phenomenal success, greater than he dared dream of. He had addressed a great many meetings on the basic ideas of Social Credit, and found people everywhere interested and thinking.

Asked to report on the Sugar Tax refund, he stated that it meant the releasing of a large sum of money from the Dominion treasury, which was hard for the Finance Minister to do, and too, considerable opposition to the refund came from the east. He was still hopeful that the matter would be solved and passed before the House adjourns. He was very sympathetic to the sugar industry, and in the matter of our own safety felt Canada should produce at least 85 p.c. of her sugar needs. Balance of trade was a major item with the Government, and imports were essential to keep the trade of foreign countries but said the speaker he was not in favor of continuing to import what we can produce by ourselves.

Turning to the financial condition of the world, the outlook for Peace and the strained relations between nations, the speaker asked that much of his speech be kept out of the press, that it may be better not repeated. He spoke of the unbalance between buying power and production, and stated that until this balance could be restored permanent prosperity was impossible and out of the question. His effort would be to assist in restoring this balance.

He received a hearty round of applause at the conclusion of his talk.

A PROGRAM FOR PERMANENCY

Are we in this district to live and make a home, or just to camp and make a stake? Probably a foolish question, and yet when one travels around the district this thought repeatedly forces itself on the mind. You see unpainted shacks that people are living in. Barns with the roofs half off, chicken coops without windows and doors and general run down condition that makes one question how long the inmates figure on staying, and if the law of average will permit them to stay that long.

One of the quickest ways to bring a bad name to a district is to allow things to get in a run down condition with no effort at keeping them in a good state of repair. We appreciate the fact that during the past few years there have been very few dollars with which to build new buildings, or even paint the old ones but even at that fences could have been kept up, the doors kept on their hinges, and a covering of some sort put over broken windows, without leaving a gaping hole in them. Everyone has time to keep things up, and in nearly every case a little improvement can be made here and there without any cash outlay, and it makes it appear as though one had some interest in things about them when the place they call home is being made a little better every year, even if it is only another tree or flower.

If this is going to be our home for the rest of our mortal lives, then let us make it the beauty spot of the South. That it can be done is proven by the ever increasing beauty of a few of the beauty spots of the town and district. The big trouble is, there are not enough of these inviting and really attractive places. And here again, this can be accomplished without any large amount of capital. It needs mostly labor. If the house needs paint, perhaps a climbing vine of some sort will hide an unpainted and rather unsightly gable. If trash is accumulating, and the wood pile doesn't look so good, a hedge of some kind will hide this and add to the beauty of the front yard.

And it is in these things that our spirit of gypsies causes the worst trouble. Apparently we think, oh well, what's the use it will take two or three years to really get a hedge growing nicely, and I may not be here by then. If you have no hedge, no flower garden, no home, then there is nine chances to one you will not be there; but if you are really spending your hours building a home, then the expectation is that you will be there to enjoy it as long as you live, and your home will be a beauty spot that all will admire.

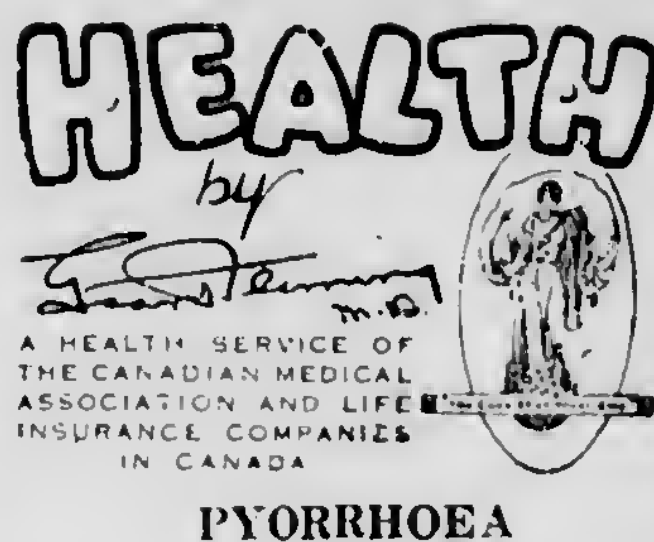

We need contentment as much or more than any other one thing. And one of the greatest contributing causes to contentment is a feeling of permanency. Let's turn to this spring with the feeling that this is our home; we are here to stay and we are going to make this home a better place year by year, so that we will get more pleasure and enjoyment within its fences and walls than any other place on earth. We may not stay. But if we do not, and have lived well while here, our children and children's children can and will say proudly and with head erect. They build better than they knew, God bless our progenitors." In the final analysis this is progress. Other goals are merely rungs in the ladder of success.

PYORRHOEA

The movies have given a great impetus to the desire for sound clean teeth. We find it difficult to associate pyorrhoea with a smiling movie-star. In the ancient writings is found mention of bleeding gums and loose teeth, although the term "pyorrhoea" did not come into use until 1877 at a meeting in Chicago.

Pyorrhoea means a flow of pus. It is an infection of the gums and root-sockets which is responsible for the loss of as many teeth as comes about thru dental decay. Teeth become loose as the gums separate from the roots of the teeth, due to the infection. Once separated, they seldom become attached again.

The presence of pus in one part of the body generally means trouble in other parts. The blood picks up the bacteria causing the infection around the teeth, and as these bacteria are carried by the blood to other parts, new infection may result.

Pus means foulness, and the mouth of the victim of pyorrhoea is foul; the breath then will likely be offensive. The gums are apt to be sore, food is not chewed properly and it is mixed with pus; the digestion is there by upset and, all told, in severe cases the general condition is miserable.

The time to prevent pyorrhoea is early in its course. The first evidence of the condition may be in childhood. Redness and swelling of the gums, and slight looseness of one or more teeth are early signs. Regular dental examination, which includes inspection of the gums as well as the teeth, allow for the early detection of such conditions. It is at this stage that proper treatment will accomplish what it may not be possible to do later on.

It should not be forgotten that the health of one part of the body is related to the general health of the whole body. Among the causes of pyorrhoea may be listed the irritation from a crown or filling which presses down on the gum tissue. Accumulations of tartar will do the same by pressing on and cutting into the gums.

When teeth are out of alignment, the dental machine is out of gear. Broken teeth, missing teeth, irregular teeth, all throw the teeth out of proper alignment cause abnormal pressures, damage the tissues and so favour infection. Lack of cleanliness sets up spots of irritation from the accumulated food particles.

Sound teeth come with a pro-

EARLY MORNING FRESHNESS

Romantic novelists like to picture for us the exuberance of their heroines by describing them springing joyously out of bed when they open their eyes to the morning light.

The truth of the matter is that it is far better to take the matter of waking in a much more leisurely manner. If possible, avoid the violence of being rested from sleep by a jangling alarm. For it is not just a fantastic notion to say that you can train yourself to awaken at the desired hour by concentrating on it before going to sleep.

But, when you do awaken, per diet, regular cleaning and periodic dental examinations. Healthy gums come with a proper diet, good alignment of teeth, regular cleaning and periodic dental examinations. It is presumed that when the examination reveals the need for treatment, it will be secured, and that cleaning will be done properly with a tooth-brush and dental floss, not with tooth-picks or knives.

Give prompt heed to bleeding gums. Early care hastens cure. Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St. Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

stretch pleasantly, like animals do. This tones the muscles. Next sit up. Now is the time, if you wish to take the traditional leap from your bed.

But, before you arrive in your bath, you probably are one of those who, on rising, immediately look in a mirror to examine their face and then shrink back in despair when they see a pale listless countenance staring back at them. The skin is tired and drooping after late hours or too long indoors. And you probably secretly envy Mary Jones who always manages to look so radiant when you meet her in the morning.

Now, early morning freshness of course usually means an alive looking skin. For tired face not only makes your best friends think you are worn out but it often psychologically affects your whole attitude.

I have found that nothing so restores the radiance that indoor life and late hours robs you of, like a good skin clearing cream. This acts as a purifier and, with its gentle stimulating properties, starts the blood tingling on the surface.

Smooth it over the face when you get up, an leave it on while you bathe and dress. Wipe off the surface with a tissue before making up. See how clear and lovely the skin is! And you will notice all sallowness gradually disappear, as well as the clarity and radiance of the skin being restored.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Dean Holland, a baby boy on Good Friday. Mother and son are doing fine, and Dean is so elated he can hardly steady down to work.

The only one who says advertising doesn't pay is the one who has never given it a good trial. What of the big industries of the world.

the British America, the National, the Northern, the Searle and the Midland and Pacific, have been cooperating in this work. Agents of these companies have collected samples of the grain marketed by the farmers in their districts, and sent these samples to experimental farms of other central points where they were grown in small plots. After the plots were fully headed, so that impurities could be distinguished, they were examined carefully and a record was made of the impurities which appeared in each. The plots were then classified as 'A', 'B', or 'C', meaning good, medium or bad, according to the number of impurities found.

At the Lethbridge Station approximately five hundred farmers' samples were grown for test last season. These were received from twenty-four different localities in southern Alberta, and a study of the plots showed that 24.2 per cent graded A, 33.2 per cent B, and 42.5 per cent C. In the past five years over 50,000 farmers' fields have been checked for purity in this way and it has been found that approximately forty per cent of that number have graded C.

Frequently samples have been received that had been given the wrong variety name by the farmers who supplied them, indicating that these particular farmers did not know which variety they were growing. Plots that contained more than ten per cent impurities were classified as mixtures, and 29.7 per cent of all the plots tested at the Lethbridge Station last year were so classified.

This Station will probably be testing about six or seven hundred farmers' samples this season, which will be supplied by agents of the grain companies mentioned above. Any farmers south of Calgary who would like to have a sample of their wheat included in this test may do so provided the number of samples received is not too large for the space and time that can be allotted to this work. A sample of about four ounces should be forwarded to this Station as soon as possible for this purpose and it should show the farmer's name and address, and the variety name.

The samples are all grown under number so that the ownership of the seed supplied is not disclosed. A field day is usually held just before harvesting to which all farmers who have supplied samples are invited. The plots are examined and a demonstration is given to enable farmers to identify different varieties, and each farmer may see his own plot if he so desires.

FRAZER — LUGOS

Lewis, youngest son of Mrs. J. Frazer and Miss Margaret Lugos, were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Allred on Tuesday evening, April 14th 1936, with Bishop J. H. Walker performing the ceremony. Miss Margaret Roberts was bridesmaid, and Ralph brother of the groom was best man.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served in honor of the young couple where 25 guests enjoyed the repast and joined in wishing the young couple success and happiness.

D. A. Bennett started seeding beets on Friday.

COOMBS — MARTIN

Flower gardens are being planted now, and it will not be very long before the vegetable gardens are being planted.

W. L. Shields and family of New Dayton were Raymond visitors Tuesday afternoon of this week.

Under the eagle eye of Mayor Meeks and Lloyd McPhee, the visiting Victoria Dominos were taken through the Sugar Factory and other points of interest on Tuesday afternoon, while staying here for the concluding game of the series.

Jack, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Coombs, and Miss Mary Martin of Beaver, were united in marriage last Thursday in the Alberta Temple, with Pres. J. Y. Card officiating. Parents and friends of both parties were present to witness the ceremony and wish the young couple God speed in their matrimonial journey. They will make their home in Raymond, and they have a host of friends here who are wishing for their success and happiness in life.
